1	I was interested in the field of livestock industry and it's impact in agriculture	Apr 4, 2014 1:33 PM
2	my work schedule did not permit it	Mar 31, 2014 1:28 PM
3	work commitements, I work irregular hours and this format allows me to continue to take courses when i have free time.	Mar 30, 2014 11:24 PM
4	it fitted in me and my children schedule	Mar 28, 2014 11:43 AM
5	This class fulfills prereq. I need to graduate and I do not care about walking the stage, so this is cheaper.	Mar 27, 2014 12:46 PM
6	online classes are much less time consuming for me. I usually don't need to sit in on a lecture for six hours a week, plus do the reading and the hw.	Mar 26, 2014 12:09 PM
7	Online convenient and work during school hours	Mar 25, 2014 3:53 PM
8	I have a full time job, that is during the regular class hours	Mar 25, 2014 3:33 PM
9	I work alot and travel, so it is difficult to take classes while working unless its online and I can log in whenever i have the time.	Mar 25, 2014 1:06 PM

1	professor asmus and professor robinson were fantastic!!	May 12, 2014 12:33 PM
2	Even though it's an online course I wish their would be more personal communication between me and the teacher.	Mar 31, 2014 7:58 PM
3	When I reported a problem it was actually an accident on my side but even then I never got a response.	Mar 30, 2014 10:30 AM

5	Everything seems to fall in place.	Mar 25, 2014 6:50 PM
6	I dont like having to a different site (MasteringEnvironmentalSciences) to view the assignments and calendar for my Ecology class. It would be better to have it all on one site with my other classes.	Mar 25, 2014 1:13 PM
7	Great job, online classes are good when you have some one like Brandi Asmus who knows how to run the class	Mar 19, 2014 3:08 PM

Page 8, Q10. When you need help with the online course material and/or assignments, which of the following resources did you use? (Select all that apply.)

1	Help from private tutors, who havent helped in homework much. I went through 3 tutors before giving up on them	Apr 15, 2014 10:14 AM
2	DSPS	Mar 26, 2014 2:29 PM
3	Asked my friend who is a Biology major.	Mar 25, 2014 6:50 PM
4	I searched the internet.	Mar 24, 2014 10:33 PM

Page 9, Q11. How would you compare the academic demands of a college course taken online versus face-to-face (on campus)?

1	Exams with very limited time restrictions necessitate careful text book reading and extreme preparedness beforehand.	Mar 31, 2014 8:05 PM
2	harder since you have to be more organized and actually need to stay on top of the course rather than just showing up	Mar 30, 2014 11:26 PM
3	its easier to be able to interact with instructor	Mar 28, 2014 11:47 AM
4	Typically I've found these to be the same, but this semester I feel there is a little less guidance than I've received in previous semesters. Perhaps it is just everyone getting used to using Canvas.	Mar 25, 2014 4:33 PM
5	The first class I took online was very hard because I wasn't used to the pacing of the class. This is the 2nd online class I have taken and I find this class easier because I have a better expectation of how these classes run in comparison to the physical classroom.	Mar 25, 2014 3:35 PM
6	In some ways it is easier because you don't have to physically attend class, but I think it is also harder because you have to discipline yourself and not procrastinate. There is more reading involved with online courses and more responses required, which I find more difficult than traditional courses where most of participation is simply showing up.	Mar 18, 2014 9:52 PM

Page 9, Q12. Which format allows you to learn more effectively?

1	Usually it's face-to-face but I'm learning a lot in Genetics.	Mar 31, 2014 8:05 PM
2	It depends on the subject matter. I feel more prereq. course should be given online.	Mar 27, 2014 12:51 PM
3	But i am sure some courses need face to face and others are more appropriate for online.	Mar 26, 2014 2:31 PM
4	In some ways, the physical classroom is more effective because it has a set, planned schedule whereas the online classroom requires that the student set up the time for studying, taking quizzes, posting discussions. Butb because of this, the online classroom has allowed me to learn time management which is a tool I can take with me after graduation.	Mar 25, 2014 3:35 PM
5	it all depends on the students effort	Mar 19, 2014 7:32 PM
6	They are effective in different ways, depending on the subject. For art or hands on material, face-to-face is much better. I think for science classes that don't require labs, online is better for me because I can approach the professor easily through email and I'm not overwhelmed by the speed of powerpoint presentations. I can go at my own pace.	Mar 18, 2014 9:52 PM

Page 9, Q13. Which learning format do you prefer?

1	Depends on the course	Apr 4, 2014 6:15 PM
2	I prefer online for classes that aren't Math. I don't usually need a lecture and a reading assignment, I can gather most of the info from the reading.	Mar 26, 2014 12:12 PM
3	I prefer face-to-face interaction but since some of my class schedule conflicts with this class if taken on campus, I have to take this class online.	Mar 25, 2014 6:59 PM
4	Face-to-Face is nice if the class is something that may not be the student's strong suit ,but Online is nice if the subject is something that the student is strong in.	Mar 25, 2014 3:35 PM
5	It really depends on the subject. I like that online is available.	Mar 18, 2014 9:52 PM

Page 9, Q14. What kind of trainings or support services would help you do better in your online courses?

1	not too sure to be honest	May 12, 2014 12:33 PM
2	Lecture videos	Apr 26, 2014 6:04 PM
3	NA	Apr 21, 2014 6:13 PM
4	hire a tutor that has access to the homework answers so they can better uide the students they are helping	Apr 15, 2014 10:15 AM
5	Better teacher communication	Apr 15, 2014 6:18 AM
6	Resonable amount of work required	Apr 4, 2014 6:15 PM
7	Revised published articles	Apr 4, 2014 1:37 PM
8	NA	Apr 3, 2014 2:17 PM
9	I would like the teachers themselves to be more committed to teaching "through" the internet. Not just providing an outline to follow and then letting students complete the assignments when they're due. In an online course I'm taking through Sierra the Nutrition teacher comments on our discussion posts sometimes and that's nice to know she's reading them and participating a little in the class with the students. It's still minimal and could be done more in my opinion. The convenience of an online course doesn't necessitate a hands-off teaching style. I'd even like to have a telephone conversation with the professor at least once during the semester as a required part of the class.	Mar 31, 2014 8:05 PM
10	Easier to find resources for help and a quick demo for how to use the site would be useful. I wasn't able to quickly find these.	Mar 31, 2014 1:32 PM
11	More instructing from the instructor themselves, just reading from a book and doing one assignment a week, does not help everyone learn.	Mar 30, 2014 3:00 PM
12	More time to read the chapters thoroughly.	Mar 30, 2014 1:48 PM
13	NA	Mar 30, 2014 12:43 PM
14	I do fine as it is.	Mar 30, 2014 10:33 AM
15	More communication from the teacher	Mar 28, 2014 9:06 PM
16	More time to be able to focus on the online class.	Mar 28, 2014 1:44 PM
17	being able to interact more with instructor	Mar 28, 2014 11:50 AM
18	i would say being able to deal with the instructor like on the t.v course	Mar 28, 2014 11:47 AM
19	If I was notified by e-mail when the system is down. Or expected to be down.	Mar 26, 2014 2:31 PM

Page 9, Q14. What kind of trainings or support services would help you do better in your online courses?

	nice.
23	n/a	Mar 25, 2014 4:59 PM
24	A lecture of sorts would be nice. It helps me to better understand the material when we get supplemental material.	Mar 25, 2014 4:33 PM
25	Keep a regular scheduele	Mar 25, 2014 3:35 PM
26	I think that taking an Introduction to Online Learning course will help students better prepare themselves for the more independent learning style that online courses cater to.	Mar 25, 2014 3:35 PM
27	If text book related homework and quizzes wouldnt happen for the first 2 weeks. Because I was unable to purchase them online (because it was coming from woodland and I live in a differnt town) until I got federal aid (5 days after class started) which made me miss the first two assignments in Ecology because my text book hadnt arrived yet.	Mar 25, 2014 1:17 PM
28	I feel I am doing pretty well with online courses and do not have very many suggestions for improvement.	Mar 24, 2014 10:35 PM
29	I would say for the online professors to be reasonable with the tasks that they are giving to their students. Some online professors give out a ridiculous amount of assignments and long quizzes. It should not take 5 hours to complete one assignment and a quiz.	Mar 23, 2014 2:19 PM
30	I'd like to improve the files area to an easier one	Mar 23, 2014 12:47 PM
